Office Policies & General Information Agreement for Psychotherapy Services and Informed Consent for Psychotherapy

This form provides you, the client, with information that is additional to that detailed in the Notice of Privacy Practices and it is subject to HIPAA preemptive analysis.

CONFIDENTIALITY: All information disclosed within sessions and the written records pertaining to those sessions are confidential and may not be revealed to anyone without your written permission except where disclosure is required by law. Clare Albright, Psy.D. employs an administrative staff who may have access to the written records pertaining to those sessions. Her administrative staff may have access to your voice mail messages, emails, and SMS texts.

WHEN DISCLOSURE IS REQUIRED OR MAY BE REQUIRED BY LAW: Some of the circumstances where disclosure is required or may be required by law are: where there is a reasonable suspicion of child, dependent, or elder abuse or neglect; where a client presents a danger to self, to others, to property, or is gravely disabled; or when a client's family members communicate to Clare Albright, Psy.D. that the client presents a danger to others. Disclosure may also be required pursuant to a legal proceeding by or against you. If you place your mental status at issue in litigation initiated by you, the defendant may have the right to obtain the psychotherapy records and/or testimony by Clare Albright, Psy.D. In couple and family therapy, or when different family members are seen individually, even over a period of time, confidentiality and privilege do not apply between the couple or among family members, unless otherwise agreed upon. Clare Albright, Psy.D. will use her clinical judgment when revealing such information. Clare Albright, Psy.D. will not release records to any outside party unless she is authorized to do so by all adult parties who were part of the family therapy, couple therapy or other treatment that involved more than one adult client, unless he/she is required by law. While I will do my best to seek your authorization to release the requested information regarding our psychotherapy from you first, in some situations a judge can order the release of the records of your psychotherapy with me or may order me to testify in regard to our therapeutic work.

EMERGENCY: If there is an emergency during therapy, or in the future after termination, where Clare Albright, Psy.D. becomes concerned about your personal safety, the possibility of you injuring someone else, or about you receiving proper psychiatric care, she will do whatever she can within the limits of the law, to prevent you from injuring yourself or others and to ensure that you receive the proper medical care. For this purpose, she may also contact the person whose name you have provided on the biographical sheet.

HEALTH INSURANCE & CONFIDENTIALITY OF RECORDS: Disclosure of confidential information may be required by your health insurance carrier or HMO/PPO/MCO/EAP in order to process the claims. Your health insurance carrier may request your complete mental health file. Clare Albright, Psy.D. has no control over, or knowledge of, what insurance companies do with the information she submits or who has access to this information. You must be aware that submitting a mental health invoice for reimbursement carries a certain amount of risk to confidentiality, privacy or to future capacity to obtain health or life insurance or even a job. The risk stems from the fact that mental health information is likely to be entered into big insurance companies' computers and may be reported to the National Medical Data Bank. Accessibility to companies' computers or to the National Medical Data Bank database is always in question as computers are inherently vulnerable to hacking and unauthorized access. Medical data has also been reported to have been legally accessed by law enforcement and other agencies, which also puts you in a vulnerable position.

LITIGATION: Sometimes patients become involved in litigation while they are in therapy or after therapy has been completed. Sometimes patients (or the opposing attorney, in a legal case) want the records disclosed to the legal system. Due to the nature of the psychotherapeutic process and the fact that it often involves making a full disclosure with regard to many matters, clients' records are generally confidential and private in nature. Patients should know that very serious consequences can result from disclosing therapy records to the legal system. Such disclosures may negatively affect the outcome of custody disputes or other legal matters and may negatively affect the therapeutic relationship. If you or the opposing attorney are considering requesting Clare Albright, Psy.D.'s disclosure of the records, Clare Albright, Psy.D. will do her best to discuss with you the risks and benefits of doing so. As noted in this document, you have the right to review your own psychotherapy records anytime. (See also relevant section above: "WHEN DISCLOSURE IS REQUIRED OR MAY BE REQUIRED BY LAW")

CONSULTATION: Clare Albright, Psy.D. consults regularly with other professionals regarding his clients; however, each client's identity remains completely anonymous and confidentiality is fully maintained. When Clare Albright uses your name in a consultation she will have you give your permission in writing first.

E-MAILS, CELL PHONES, TEXTS, COMPUTERS, AND FAXES:

Clare Albright, Psy.D.'s administrative staff has access to her emails, texts, and e-faxes.

Do not include any information in your emails, texts, and e-faxes that you do not want her staff to obtain.

Computers and unencrypted e-mail, texts, and e-faxes communication can be relatively easily accessed by unauthorized people and therefore can compromise the privacy and confidentiality of the information used in such communications. Servers and telecommunication companies often have direct and unlimited access to all the information contained in the e-mails, texts and e-faxes that use their services. When you communicate with Clare Albright, Psy.D. using unencrypted e-mail, texts or e-fax or via phone messages, you assume the responsibility of the risk that your information and identity may be intercepted. If you choose to communicate with Clare Albright, Psy.D. using e-mail or SMS/text messaging, you are advised to use personal email and SMS/MMS addresses rather than those associated you're your work accounts. Please do not use texts, e-mail, voice mail, or faxes for emergencies as they will not be accessed in a timely manner.

RECORDS AND YOUR RIGHT TO REVIEW THEM: Both the law and the standards of Clare Albright, Psy.D.'s profession require that she keep treatment records for at least 7 years.

Unless otherwise agreed to be necessary, Clare Albright, Psy.D. retains clinical records only as long as is mandated by California law. If you have concerns regarding the treatment records, please discuss them with Clare Albright, Psy.D.. As a client, you have the right to review or receive a summary of your records at any time, except in limited legal or emergency circumstances or when Clare Albright, Psy.D. assesses that releasing such information might be harmful in any way. In such a case, Clare Albright, Psy.D. will provide the records to an appropriate and legitimate licensed mental health professional of your choice. Considering all of the above exclusions, if it is still appropriate, and upon your request, Clare Albright, Psy.D. will release information to any agency/person you specify unless Clare Albright, Psy.D. assesses that releasing such information might be harmful in any way. When more than one client is involved in treatment, such as in cases of couple and family therapy, Clare Albright, Psy.D. will release records only with signed authorizations from all the adults (or all those who legally can authorize such a release) involved in the treatment.

TELEPHONE & EMERGENCY PROCEDURES: If you need to contact Clare Albright, Psy.D. between sessions, please leave a message at (949) 454-0996 and your call will be returned as soon as possible. Clare Albright, Psy.D. checks her messages a few times during the daytime only, unless she is out of town. If you need to talk to someone right away call the Police: 911. Please do not use email, SMS texting, or faxes for emergencies. Clare Albright, Psy.D. does not always check her email, SMS texts, or faxes daily.

PAYMENTS & INSURANCE REIMBURSEMENT: Clients are expected to pay the standard fee of $175.00 per 45 minutes at the end of each session unless other arrangements have been made. Telephone conversations, site visits, writing and reading of reports, consultation with other professionals, release of information, reading records, longer sessions, travel time, etc. will be charged at the same rate, unless indicated and agreed upon otherwise. Please notify Clare Albright, Psy.D. if any problems arise during the course of therapy regarding your ability to make timely payments. Clients who carry insurance should remember that professional services are rendered and charged to the clients and not to the insurance companies. As was indicated in the section, Health Insurance & Confidentiality of Records, you must be aware that submitting a mental health invoice for reimbursement carries a certain amount of risk. Not all issues/conditions/problems, which are dealt with in psychotherapy, are reimbursed by insurance companies. It is your responsibility to verify the specifics of your coverage. If your account is overdue (unpaid) and there is no written agreement on a payment plan, Clare Albright, Psy.D. can use legal or other means (courts, collection agencies, etc.) to obtain payment.

THE PROCESS OF THERAPY/EVALUATION AND SCOPE OF PRACTICE:

Participation in therapy can result in a number of benefits to you, including improving interpersonal relationships and resolution of the specific concerns that led you to seek therapy. Working toward these benefits, however, requires effort on your part. Psychotherapy requires your very active involvement, honesty, and openness in order to change your thoughts, feelings, and/or behavior. Sometimes more than one approach can be helpful in dealing with a certain situation. During evaluation or therapy, remembering or talking about unpleasant events, feelings, or thoughts can result in you experiencing considerable discomfort or strong feelings of anger, sadness, worry, fear, etc., or experiencing anxiety, depression, insomnia, etc. Clare Albright, Psy.D. may challenge some of your assumptions or perceptions or propose different ways of looking at, thinking about, or handling situations, which can cause you to feel very upset, angry, depressed, challenged, or disappointed. Attempting to resolve issues that brought you to therapy in the first place, such as personal or interpersonal relationships, may result in changes that were not originally intended. Psychotherapy may result in decisions about changing behaviors, employment, substance use, schooling, housing, or relationships. Sometimes a decision that is positive for one family member is viewed quite negatively by another family member. Change will sometimes be easy and swift, but more often it will be slow and even frustrating.

There is no guarantee that psychotherapy will yield positive or intended results.

During the course of therapy, Clare Albright, Psy.D. is likely to draw on various psychological approaches according, in part, to the problem that is being treated and her assessment of what will best benefit you. These approaches include, but are not limited to, behavioral, cognitive-behavioral, cognitive, psychodynamic, existential, system/family, developmental (adult, child, family), humanistic, guided meditation, EMDR, brain spotting, psycho-educational approaches, etc.

Clare Albright, Psy.D. provides neither custody evaluation recommendations nor medication or prescription recommendation nor legal advice, as these activities do not fall within her scope of practice.

TREATMENT PLANS: If you have any unanswered questions about any of the procedures used in the course of your therapy, their possible risks, Clare Albright, Psy.D.'s expertise in employing them, or about any plans for your treatment, please ask and you will be answered fully. You also have the right to ask about other treatments for your condition and their risks and benefits.

TERMINATION: As set forth above, after the first couple of meetings, Clare Albright, Psy.D. will assess if she can be of benefit to you. Clare Albright, Psy.D. does not work with clients who, in her opinion, she cannot help. In such a case, if appropriate, she will give you referrals that you can contact. If at any point during psychotherapy Clare Albright, Psy.D. either assesses that she is not effective in helping you reach the therapeutic goals or perceives you as non-compliant or non-responsive, and if you are available and/or it is possible and appropriate to do, she will discuss with you the termination of treatment and she may conduct pre-termination counseling. In such a case, if appropriate and/or necessary, she would give you a couple of referrals that may be of help to you. If you request it and authorize it in writing, Clare Albright, Psy.D. will talk to the psychotherapist of your choice in order to help with the transition. If at any time you want another professional's opinion or wish to consult with another therapist, Clare Albright, Psy.D. will give you a couple of referrals that you may want to contact, and if she has your written consent, she will provide her or him with the essential information needed. You have the right to terminate therapy and communication at any time. If you choose to do so, upon your request and if appropriate and possible, Clare Albright, Psy.D. will provide you with names of other qualified professionals whose services you might prefer.

INTERNET SEARCHES: In principle, Clare Albright, Psy.D. does not often use search engines to look up information about clients. In situations that involve the wellbeing and safety of the client, such as when Clare Albright, Psy.D. has reasons to suspect that the client might be in a crisis or if the client has not shown up to sessions nor communicated about it, exceptions might be made. In these cases, searching the internet for pertinent information about the client or attempting to find alternative ways to contact the client might be necessary to ensure their welfare.

SOCIAL MEDIA POLICY: Clare Albright, Psy.D. takes issues of confidentiality and privacy, as well as healthy boundaries relating to the therapeutic relationship, very seriously. In order to protect the right of client and therapist for privacy, in order to safeguard the confidentiality of information shared between them, and in order to avoid confusion and maintain clear boundaries between client and therapist, Clare Albright, Psy.D. has chosen to follow these principles concerning the use of social media:

- Clare Albright, Psy.D. does not engage with clients in any way on social networking sites. For example, friend requests on Facebook will be denied and any communication on social platforms such as Messenger, will be ignored.
- The preferred method to contact Clare Albright, Psy.D. between sessions is the phone. This is especially true when a client wishes to discuss therapeutic related issues so that her staff will have no access to your personal information in the live phone call.
- For brief pragmatic communications, such as rescheduling a session, clients may also use texting or email. To protect your information, please avoid using texting and email to communicate matters related to the sessions.
- Clare Albright, Psy.D. may not be able to see materials clients post on social media but if they wish to bring something relevant to the treatment or otherwise to the session, they are welcome to do so.

AUDIO OR VIDEO RECORDING: Unless otherwise agreed to by all parties beforehand, there shall be no audio or video recording of therapy sessions, phone calls, or any other services provided by Clare Albright, Psy.D..

CANCELLATION: Since the scheduling of an appointment involves the reservation of time specifically for you, a minimum of 48 hours (2 days) notice is required for re-scheduling or canceling an appointment. Unless we reach a different agreement, the full fee will be charged for sessions missed without such notification.

Most insurance companies do not reimburse for missed sessions.
